TWO VERTICES.

She was a woman, worn and thin,
Whom the world condemned for a single sin:
They cast her out on the King's highway
And passed her by as they went to pray.
He was a man, and he was poor,
But he would not let his breath of shame
Break his feet as he saw her lie,
But raised his head and passed her by.
They were the people who went to pray
At the Temple of God on a holy day.
They scorned this woman, forgave the man,
Left her to die, and went their way.
Thus passed on the man and woman dead,
But the world was sted and would not yield,
And they buried her in poster's field.

Man died, too, and they buried him
in a casket of iron with a silver rim,
And when he died, they turned back his grave away,
"We have buried an honest man today."

HAVE A CARE!

Don't Convert Yourself into a Walking National Bank These Days.

The Street Fair is in full bloom,
And the Fair and Thug are here in large numbers.

They are always everywhere on big occasions.

So it is, therefore, that you do not go about the streets resplendent in diamonds and jewelry, and that your wallet does not contain too much "long green"—or free silver.

Leave your money at home. If you stores
and have a safe at night and "lockie" feedie that your safe doesn't contain anything more valuable than overdues accounts.

A word to the wise ought to be sufficient.

This is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Carbolic acid is a constitutional disease, requiring a constitutional treatment. Hail's Cancer Cure is taken directly to the body, and acts directly on the blood and the various surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the founding of the disease, and giving the patient the opportunity of building up his body, and assuring a long and happy life.

THROUGH THE EFFORTS OF

MAYSVILLE'S BOARD OF TRADE!

Coupled with the co-operation of liberal-minded people who are not members of the board, various attractions
will be offered in a few days in our city
that will doubtless bring many visitors from this and adjoining counties. We are promised by the managers of the near-approaching Street Fair that many novel and interesting features
will be presented.

"You'll come sure," and when you are here combine a little business with pleasure. Such bargains as Hechinger at present is offering and selling rarely are obtained. It goes without saying that the qualities throughout the various lines in Hechinger's are the very best—no cheap clothing, no cheap shoes,
no cheap furnishings, only the highest types of merchandise is handled in this store, BUT at prices that are warranted
lower than you pay for inferior goods away from home. Hechinger's for many years has been, and is now,

THE HOME STORE.

Ask those who occasionally buy clothing away from home. They know.

Again, we say we do not quote prices in our ads. You cannot quote clothing like other commodities, such as wheat, corn or cattle. Come and see what we have, examine qualities, and then pay what you think it is worth. Your judgment will lead you aright. During the Fair

MAKE OUR STOREROOM HEADQUARTERS.

Among other liquids in hand we always have an abundance of ice water.
The latter, like our Clothing, you'll find the best in town. We will also take charge of your packages during your stay in town.

UNCLE SAM AND GREATER AMERICA

The Dover Messenger presents the name of Mr. O. EUGENE COLLINS of this city as a candidate for the Legislature. Mr. COLLINS would make a good race and he would make a good Representative.

HENRY CLEWS, in writing of the late ex-Governor FLOWER and his connection with the stock markets of New York, says the Wall street and the business interests of this country which he leaves behind: JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, worth $30,000,000; WILLIAM, his brother, $150,000,000; the ASTORs, $250,000,000; the VANDERBILTS, $400,000,000; CARNegie, $150,000,000; the GULDENS, $100,000,000; D. O. MILLS, $40,000,000; C. M. INGOT, $40,000,000; and as much as what Gov. E. B. FLOWERS possessed. I give this array of figures of individual wealth to show how insignificant the power of any one man is as compared with a combination of others. This is an age of combination and Wall street is now the market of the world for speculative dealings and investment transactions. The great wealth of Europe is more or less in and out of this market in both classes of operations. It was thought when Mr. STEWART died there would be one to take his place, and would the change if he should die back there would be one to take his place, and could he create one. When Commodore VANDERBILT died the feeling was the same. So it was when WILLIAM H. VANDERBILT departed, also JAY GOULD and a host of others. None of these are missed now in business affairs; so the world goes on with little end.

ANGUSTIA C. VANDERBILT of Greenup has had his pension increased from $2 to $12 per month.

The Old Glory Gas Co. will give an entertainment this evening at the Hotel Franklin. The program will be given at 8 p.m.

The Carisle Mercury wants an electric railroad built from that point to Angustia, taking in Blue Licks, Mt. Olivet and German town.

J. B. BELL of Carlisle won one of the four prizes offered by the grand lottery company to local managers in the largest sale in the company's store in this state.

The Covington Commonwealth says Mr. and Mrs. Burlingrove moved a few days since from Garrard and Seventh streets to this city, where Mr. Burlingrove has engaged in business.

Nicholas and Roberta C. BURGESS have a candidate for the legislature.

John H. HARRIS naturally nominated a candidate for Representative. The candidates are E. D. BAXTER, E. T. THOMAS, Mann M. Sharp.

State Auditor STONE. H. Stone has formally announced himself as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination for Governor.

Colonel STONE is a graduate of Heidelberg University and one of the most prominent Knights Templars in the state.

Unless a woman eats and drinks nourishing food she can not live and keep a good complexion. Food, when digested, is the base of all health, all strength and all beauty. Herbine will help digest what you eat and give you the clear, bright, beautiful complexion.

A man of Kentucky Methobol was born in Louisville June 6th, 5th and 6th.

The purpose is to arouse a revival spirit in the state and to advance the cause of education. The Kentucky Methobol, held in May, 1866, it is reported that the Southern Methodist Church would try to raise $1,000,000 by the beginning of the twentieth century for the education of colored people.

The Louisville Conference responded to raise $6,500, and the Kentucky Conference $6,000.

At this meeting plans and methods will be discussed, and enthusiasm on the subject will be aroused.

DEWEY IS NOT ILL

Surgeon J. E. Page, of the Flagship Olympia, Arrives in the National Capital.

DEWEY IS IN NO SENSE A SICK MAN.

The Surgeon Says All in the Fleet Suffered in Health More or Less During the Year.

The Admiral Has Not Once Asked for a Prescription or Taken Medical Advice Except in a Casual Way. During the Past Year.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Surgeon J. E. Page of Adm. Dewey's flagship, the Olympia, has arrived here on leave. He came ahead of the Olympia to avoid delays of the sail via the Suez canal. Surgeon Page has been on the flagship ever since Dewey took command, seeing him daily, and having general charge of medical affairs, so that he is in a position to give an intelligent view of the admiral's health and general condition. He said Wednesday:

"There is no reason a sick man, but as well as any man could be after spending a year in the tropics. I was on the Olympia at the time he came aboard, and from that time to the present I do not believe there has been any appreciable change in his appearance, weight or general condition. Any one who thinks he is a physical wreck should heed the admiral on the quarterdeck when he gets aroused. He is the gentlest man living, a true example of every virtue, does his exact duty, and when there is any shortcoming the admiral will be heard from in no feeble or sickly manner."

"Of course every one in the fleet has suffered in health more or less during the last year, owing to the terrific and long sustained heat and the enervating climate. It takes all the life out of a strong man and undoes his energy and ambition, but that way Dewey suffered with all the rest of us. It was particularly arduous during blockade duty, when long stretches of man could get ashore."

Surgeon Page was asked if Adm. Dewey's responsibilities had not weighed heavily on him.

"I think not," he answered, "and I believe it will be found that he has just as much nerve as the morning he fought the battle of Manila Bay. He is a man of great energy, and though he is light and does not let it break him down. On the morning of the battle he was perfectly cool and only once throughout the action did he show any signs of anxiety. That was when the head gunner reported that our ammunition was running short. This was about the time we pulled off for breakfast, and it had a rather depressing effect. But it was quickly off when the officer of the deck reported to the Reina Cristina and Castilla were afire. That was the turning point, and the admiral had no anxiety after that."

Asked if he had prescribed for Dewey of late Surgeon Page said:

"No, he has no need for prescriptions. During the last year he has not once asked for a prescription or taken medical advice except in a casual way. If he wants anything he sends down to the ship's doctor, who is a good man, and he always says that he needs little or no medicine. His smoking and drinking are in perfect moderation. He eats well and sleeps well, and it is one of the recognized offenses on board ship to tramp heavily over the admiral's cabin after he has retired."

"It has needed a pretty calm man at the head of affairs," said Surgeon Page, when asked as to the reports of friction with the admiral.

"I know nothing of any differences, but we all felt that much reliance was to be placed on the admiral's tact and conservatism as a means of avoiding any possible difficulty. Throughout the fleet he was admired universally, not only as a naval commander, but for his statesmanship and discretion."

The Celebration of Queen Victoria's Birthday at Fort Tampa, Fla.—Greatest Day in the Town's History.

TAMPA, Fla., May 28.—The greatest day in the history of Fort Tampa, that of the celebration of Queen Victoria's birthday, opened bright Wednesday morning. The sun appeared on the horizon, salutes were fired from the American war vessels lying in the harbor, and from then on events crowded upon each other. The shipping in the harbor was gay with its dressing of flags and pennants, and throughout the town was a liberal display of flags, bunting and floral decorations. Then flags of the two nations, the British and American, the British and American were floated from every point of vantage and among them conspicuously showed were many German flags. The most striking feature of the decorations was a triumphant arch displaying the British lion and the American eagle.
